

Abstract Guidelines

Abstracts containing 300 to 500 characters are to be written in the Word format (.doc or .docx) and should include the following:

- Session title (social sciences and humanities, or linguistics and literature) and the field of study (e.g. language, literature, history etc.)
- For papers on linguistics, specify the linguistic sub-branch (e.g. stylistics, pragmatics, phonetics etc.)
- Paper title
- Name, middle name and surname of the author
- Name of the mentor
- E-mail address
- Abstract (300 to 500 characters)
- Up to five key words or phrases

Abstracts should be written in the same language as the paper, as well as in one of the conference languages (e.g. if the paper is in English, the submitted abstract should be both in English and in one of the conference languages).

The conference languages are: Serbian and all other Slavic languages, English, French, and German.

The time limit for presenting a paper is 15 minutes, with 10 minutes for the presentation and 5 minutes for a discussion.
